

RESOLVED, that the State Bar of Nevada endorses recent statements by the Chief Justice of the United States that the failure to raise federal judicial pay is now a "crisis that threatens to undermine the strength and independence of the federal Judiciary."

RESOLVED, that the State Bar of Nevada urges Congress to take immediate action to enact a substantial pay increase for the federal judiciary, consistent with the recent analysis by Paul Volcker, former chair of the National Commission on the Public Service, which recognizes the inadequacy of federal judicial salaries and that increases in federal judicial salary have not even kept pace with increases in average American worker wages.
